PROMOTE AND PROTECT OUR STRONG ECONOMY

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 11, 2007

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, America's third quarter GDP grew at an impressive 4.9 percent. That means we have had 6 straight years of economic growth coupled with a record 51 straight months of job growth creating 8.3 million additional jobs. In the district I represent, the Nation's fourth largest cabinet company, the ElKay Cabinet Division, has announced a new manufacturing plant in Barnwell which will create hundreds of jobs. This job success is the product of the pro-growth tax policies that President Bush signed into law 4 years ago.

There remains much more that we must do in order to promote strong economic growth. We need energy legislation that actually helps create new energy, health care reform that values individual choice over government mandate, and sensible tax reform. We must enact legislation—including a repeal of the Alternative Minimum Tax—that doesn't expand the burden of Washington spending on the backs of middle class Americans and small businesses.

In conclusion, God bless our troops, and we will never forget September 11th.

IN RECOGNITION OF KATE WHITACRE

HON. BRAD ELLSWORTH

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 11, 2007

Mr. ELLSWORTH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the outstanding achievements of Cadet Kate Whitacre from Boonville, IN. Kate recently received the Carl A. Spaatz Award—the highest honor bestowed upon members of the Civil Air Patrol.

The award is based on a demonstrated excellence in leadership, character, fitness and aerospace education. And Kate's receipt of this prestigious award is a testament not only to her abilities in these areas but also to her commitment to our community.

As a member of the Civil Air Patrol, she is volunteering to risk her own life to make others safer, and she understands that there is no higher calling than service to others.

I congratulate Kate Whitacre on her tremendous accomplishment. She is a leader among many and an inspiration to us all.

ENERGY INDEPENDENCE AND SECURITY ACT OF 2007

SPEECH OF

HON. LYNN C. WOOLSEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 6, 2007

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, the energy bill before us today raises the bar and sets new, higher standards for us as a Nation and all I can say is "It's about time."

It's about time we raised CAFE standards to a level to be competitive with the rest of the world. Allowing these standards to fall behind is an embarrassment for a country that should be a role model for other countries in technology and efficiency.

It's about time that we had a nationwide renewable energy standard. Renewable energy in some form is available in every corner of this Nation. We need to invest in it and make it work for us and for a cleaner future for our children. Setting a standard at 15 percent is a good start.

And it's about time that we work toward making cleaner fuels for our automobiles. That's why I'm proud language is included in this bill that I authored with the gentleman from Maryland, Mr. BARTLETT, which sets a goal of reducing greenhouse gas emissions from the production and use of biofuels.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this bill and move our energy policy forward for our children and grandchildren. It's about time.

TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE
SHIRLEY WADDING

HON. PETER J. VISCLOSKY

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 11, 2007

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, it is with great honor and pleasure that I stand before you today to recognize the many accomplishments of the Honorable Shirley Wadding, Mayor of Lake Station, Indiana. I have known Shirley for many years, and she is one of the most involved citizens that I have ever known, especially when it comes to her service to the residents of Lake Station. Shirley has been a public official in Lake Station for the past twenty years, the last twelve of which she served as the city's mayor. Though Shirley has been the cornerstone of her community, she decided not to run for reelection and will be retiring from her elected office at year's end. For her efforts and many contributions to the City of Lake Station, Shirley was honored at a retirement celebration on Saturday, December 1, 2007, at the Lake Station Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #9323.

Originally from Indiana, Pennsylvania, Shirley came to Northwest Indiana in 1960. A resident of Lake Station since that time, Shirley's familiarity with the people of Lake Station and her fondness for the city emerged from her everyday interactions with them as the owner of a local sandwich shop. Undoubtedly, it was her connection to the people that steered her in the direction of public service and led to her election to the city council in 1987. Following eight years on the council, Shirley's leadership skills and dedication led to her election as mayor, serving from 1996 to 2007. During this time, Shirley received numerous accolades from the community, including: the Liberty Bell Award from the Indiana State Bar Association in 2002, the Department of the Army's Certificate of Appreciation in 2005, and the Marine Corps League Distinguished Service Award in 2007.

As the mayor of Lake Station, Shirley was instrumental in many improvements and upgrades within the city. Throughout her tenure, Lake Station has welcomed several new subdivisions and businesses, as well as many new public facilities, including a community center, a senior and nutrition center, a food pantry, a public library, and a compost facility. Thanks to Shirley's leadership and perseverance, the city was also able to acquire and restore what would become her most rewarding contribution, the Lake Station Boys and Girls Club. Throughout the years, Shirley's commitment to public safety and the well-being of the community was constant. During this time, the city saw improvements and additions made to the ambulance service, the police department, and the fire department. These included additional vehicles, equipment, officers, computer upgrades, and a new 911 emergency system. Public health services were also improved through the addition of a mosquito sprayer, new storm sewers, a renovated water tower, and new sidewalks and walking trails. Beautification of the city has also been one of Shirley's primary objectives, as is evidenced by Lake Station's Veterans' Community Park, a covered walking bridge, and numerous landscaping projects throughout the city.

Having decided to retire from public service, Shirley will now be able to spend much of her time with those closest to her, her family. A loving wife, mother, and grandmother, Shirley's commitment to the people of Lake Station is surpassed only by her dedication to her family. Shirley and her husband, Harry, have shared many wonderful years together. They have been blessed with three children: Jody, Toni, and James. Harry and Shirley are also the proud grandparents of 6 adoring grandchildren: Larissa, Kristin, Jordan, Jenna, Jake, and Jonas.

Madam Speaker, Shirley Wadding has given her time and efforts selflessly to the people of Lake Station for the past twenty years and beyond. At this time, I ask that you and all of my distinguished colleagues join me in commending her for her service and dedication. I also ask you to join me in wishing her the best of health and happiness in the years to come.

CARDINAL JOHN P. FOLEY DAY IN PHILADELPHIA

HON. CHAKA FATTAH

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 11, 2007

Mr. FATTAH. Madam Speaker, December 13, 2007, is a special day in Philadelphia. The City Council has declared 'Cardinal John P. Foley Day in the City of Philadelphia' to honor a great and humble priest of our city who has been elevated to Cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church.

Both in Philadelphia and on the world stage, Cardinal Foley has served ably as the communicator of both faith and social policy for the
